Exit before tweeting

"In case of fire, exit burning building before tweeting about it."

Wrap your talking gear around this…

- What do you think this means?
- Have you ever watched a drama unfold on social media in real time?
- Have you ever been 'burnt' by speaking too quickly?
- Why do some people want to be the first one to spread news?
- Why is it not always a great idea to post things immediately? (Even if you aren't at risk of getting stuck in a burning building)
- What other day to day scenarios could this rule apply to?
- Does everything that happens in the real world need to be publicised on social media?

Use these discussion starters as a jumping off position to explore the saying. Always try and come up with some actions that would help everyone in the discussion to learn and grow. Be curious, have fun and be prepared to change the way you think – and behave!
